1.1	Please provide a narrative below describing how data was used from a comprehensive needs assessment of the entire school to identify the needs of all children, particularly those who are failing, or are at-risk of failing to meet State academic standards, and how this analysis was used to plan curriculum, instruction and assessment decisions.
Adams Elementary School conducted a comprehensive needs assessment of the entire school to identify the needs of all students, particularly those who are failing. This assessment involved teachers, staff, parents, and community members reviewing district and school disaggregated data from multiple data sources and reflecting the Adams Elementary school improvement plan. The comprehensive needs assessment involved looking at district and building data in the following capacities: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1) used multiple data sources that addressed academics as well as behavior/mental health and attendance2) included multiple data sources that were disaggregated by gender, ethnicity, free and reduced lunch status as well as participation in special programs (i.e. High Ability Learner, special education, MTSS, and summer school)3) was supported by staff training4) was part of a systematic continuous improvement and data analysis process and ensures that5) data is used to modify instruction. 1. Assessment Data Sources Academic: Academic data sources were selected that provided a balanced and triangulated look at student achievement related to the Adams School Improvement Plan. These include NSCAS, NWEA, and formative assessments. All are highly rated assessments that were selected in a thorough review process. Growth, percentage average/meeting expectations, and general scale score trends were all reviewed and disaggregated when possible. HMM Curriculum Reading assessments and Success Maker math assessments are also used for screening and for progress monitoring. Additional academic data sources included: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The Nebraska Education Profile (NEP) was used to look at how Adams students compared with students in Nebraska.• The academic interventions provided and the number in each intervention• Curriculum Common Assessments• ELPA21• Amira/Lexia Behavior: Behavior data sources were viewed on the Tableau Behavior dashboard. Monthly MTSS-B Team meetings were held to disaggregate the data and identify needs.

Parent/community input was gathered that identified the needs of the school through three or more activities. Activity 1: Input Surveys are provided three times throughout the year at the school level and once a year at the district level. The school-level surveys are distributed via Seesaw school communications, emails, texts as well as QR codes during parent-teacher conferences. A live link is also provided in all school communications monthly. The district year-end climate survey is used as a summative evaluation of the school. Activity 2: PTO Meetings are held the first Tuesday of every month. All parents and community members are welcome to voice their opinions and hear from school staff. Evidence Folder includes an example of one PTO meeting invitation and one opportunity to get involved with the PTO. Activity 3: Family Engagement Nights are held once a semester. The fall semester event was a fall carnival with family engagement activities centered around math and fun learning activities. The spring semester event was an author visit from Julia Cook. Activity 4: One Book-One School occurred twice during the school-year. Families were provided a book that the school had read as a Read-Aloud. The families participated that night in a read-aloud at home and shared pictures of their involvement on social media. The books chosen went with the school theme, "Keep Calm and CRAYON." Semester 1's book choice was "The Day the Crayons Quit." Semester 2's book choice was "The Day the Crayons Came Home." Activity 5: Interactive Math Night occurred in September. Families played math games that involved cards and dice.
